Summer Review 2019

LOLUG has been very busy this past year building and preparing for Nebraska Brick Days. However many of us took a break to attend Brickworld Chicago - the national convention of all things LEGO. Brickworld is a “bucket list” event for any fan of LEGO® with 100,000 square feet of nothing but LEGO!

With over 1000 registered attendee's; the members of LOLUG represented our state very well!

- AJ Christiansen won the mini-fig speed build.
- Ava Flood won the junior mini-fig speed build.
- Marshall Stoneman was nominated for best creature.
- Nate Flood won best sea vessel, best structure from Brick Model Railroader and was also nominated for Brickworld Master.
- Dave Boyer won for best mosaic and was also nominated for best vignette.
 - Ben Storck won the best train from NILTC

How do I participate in Brick Days?

Go to the website Brick Days website and sign up as a guest builder. You will receive instructions on how to register your creation at our events.

I see you identify yourself as a LUG – what is that?

It is a LEGO® User Group (like a club) but LOLUG is actually an R-LUG (Recognized LEGO® User Group). It means that LEGO® identifies LOLUG on their website and allows us to communicate with them directly.

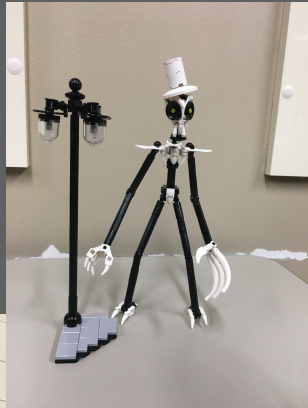

I love LEGO® but why should I join LOLUG?

If you love talking about LEGO®, LEGO® sets or want to show your own creations to the public then LOLUG is perfect for you. We meet every month and alternate between Lincoln and Omaha.
